

DEATH EXPECTED AT ANY MOMENT OF MRS. M'KINLEY

NOW LYING IN A COMATOSE CONDITION AT HER CANTON HOME.

DR. RIXEY WAS SUMMONED

And With Conferers Is In Constant Attendance Upon the Distinguished Patient.

Canton, O., May 24.—Today Mrs. Ida McKinley, widow of the martyred President, lies in a comatose condition. Only a flicker of consciousness remains. Dr. Portmann says she is no longer in pain and seems as if in a deep sleep. For weeks the curtain of mental darkness has been closing down on Mrs. McKinley. She has had hallucinations. At times she seemed to see "the Major," as she always called her husband, seated by her side. At other times she would imagine herself in a strange house. Then the nurses would take her to a window and point out familiar objects.

This last illness is a development of her old trouble that always kept her an invalid. Tuesday she took her last drive. Until Thursday noon her heart was strong. Then it began to fail, missing each seventh and twentieth beat. Then Dr. Portmann sent for Surgeon General Rixey, who had been the President's and Mrs. McKinley's physician at Washington. Other relatives were summoned. Mrs. McKinley's strength is being kept up by heart stimulants. Doses of strychnine are now being administered every four hours. Dr. Portmann paid an early visit to the patient this morning. When he left he said he recognized an improvement in the patient but could hold out no hope of recovery. She may last a week or even longer. But the end may come most any time.

Dr. Rixey and Secretary Cortelyou arrived here from Washington today before noon. They were driven to the McKinley home. Dr. Rixey at once went into consultation with Doctors Portmann and Eymann on Mrs. McKinley's case.

At noon today Drs. Rixey, Portmann and Eymann gave out this statement:

"Mrs. McKinley's condition is improving and we trust and hope it will continue to improve. Her condition, however, is serious. The principal difficulty is to give her sufficient nourishment. There is a decided improvement as to the paralysis, which is limited to one arm. The difficulty in giving the patient nourishment is the result of inability to swallow. She had also lost the use of her tongue. Mrs. McKinley roused from a comatose condition this morning and recognized Mr. Cortelyou and Mrs. Duncan. The doctors, however, hold out no hope of her recovery."

Canton, O., May 24.—Mrs. McKinley, widow of President McKinley and who sustained a stroke of apoplexy Thursday, is still unconscious. Dr. O. E. Portman, the attending physician, says there is no hope of her recovery, and intimated the end is only a matter of hours. Dr. J. E. Eymann, superintendent of the Massillon state hospital, also is in attendance on the patient and Surgeon General Rixey was telegraphed for from Washington. Mrs. McKinley has been in nearly all winter, having suffered a severe attack of grippe some months ago, followed later by bronchitis. The physicians say that in her weakened condition she was easy victim to the disease with which she was stricken. She is nearing the 60th anniversary of her birth and has long been in feeble health. Mrs. McKinley gave up knitting recently, and this was taken as an indication that her hold upon life was slight, as ever since the tragic death of her husband she has found solace in knitting slippers for friends and invalids. Of late Mrs. McKinley has been obliged to keep close within doors.

Mrs. McKinley was Ida Saxton, daughter of a well-known bank president of Canton, prior to her marriage to the third of America's martyred presidents. The only two children born to the McKinley household were Ida, who was born in 1871 and died 13 months later, and another daughter, Katie, who lived to be only three and a half years old. Mrs. McKinley's health was shattered about that time and she never walked without assistance.

Telegrams from all parts of the country have been pouring into Canton anxiously inquiring as to Mrs. McKinley's condition and evincing widespread sorrow over the announcement of her critical illness.

SAYS GOULD'S OFFER WAS A COOL MILLION

MRS. HOWARD GOULD.

NEW YORK, May 24.—So soon as Police Commissioner Bingham completes his investigation into the alleged association of certain police officials with the marital troubles of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gould, it is learned the findings will be turned over to the district attorney, who will present them to the grand jury for action. Suit for limited divorce has now been begun by Mrs. Gould against her millionaire husband, son of the late Jay Gould. Mr. Gould has twenty days in which to ask for a bill of particulars. Mrs. Gould places her husband's income at $1,000,000 a year, and will probably apply for alimony and counsel fees pending the trial for separation. It is probable that the main legal contest will be on the question of alimony.

New York, May 24.—Interest in the Howard Gould divorce suit centers mainly on the gradual uncovering of the alleged police conspiracy to procure evidence reflecting on Mrs. Gould.

Under threat of being publicly subpoenaed, De Lancey Nicoll, counsel for Howard Gould, was Thursday forced to pay a second visit to police headquarters in connection with the investigation being made. As a result of his visit it can be stated most positively that former police inspector, William McLaughlin will, in one way or another, be out of the department inside of a week, and that Detective Peabody will soon follow his former chief.

"Big Hawley" who has been one of the most prominent characters in the case, told a sensational story Thursday of an offer of $1,000,000 made by Howard Gould to his wife, if she would agree to a divorce.

"There is a standing offer to Mrs. Gould of $1,000,000," said Hawley. "It was first made when the troubles between the Goulds assumed an acute form, which was about a year ago, I think. Through intermediaries Gould told his wife that he would give her $1,000,000 flat if she would go to some state where the divorce laws are easy and sue him on the ground of incompatibility.

"She also was asked to relinquish all claims against his estate and to drop the Gould name, never to assume it again. He was willing to not put in any defense, and to reimburse his wife for all of her legal and other expenses.

"But she turned him down. He was too anxious. The Gould family now stands ready to make good on the offer. But it never will be accepted. You may depend on that."

DESPERATE GANG

Tragedy at a Dance.

Muskogee, I. T., May 24.—Fred Harte, 21, entered a dance hall in Choska, I. T., shot and mortally wounded L. M. Johnson, the floor walker, and shot and seriously wounded a negro fiddler and a 4-year-old child in his mother's arms. Harte's act was the result of ill feeling toward Johnson, because Johnson had aided in gathering evidence on which Harte was convicted of assault with intent to kill in Fort Smith, Ark., a few months ago. Harte is in jail.

SERIOUS OFFENSE CHARGED AGAINST F. M. CHAMBERS

Under orders from the juvenile court, Probation Officers Mrs. Mary A. Swan and Dr. C. F. Legge visited the home of W. H. Sprague on South Fifth street, Friday morning, to look into the conditions of the home.

The young daughter of Mr. Sprague, who is but one month past 14, is the star witness in the case against F. M. Chambers, a phonographic salesman, who is charged with a serious offense by the girl's father.

Chambers was arrested Thursday night by Chief Sheridan on the complaint of Sprague. An affidavit was filed Thursday night and Chambers is now in the county jail awaiting the action of the grand jury.

The case is a particularly sad one. It is said Chambers succeeded in winning the confidence of the little girl by making her presents of jewelry at different times. He also had a large phonograph at the home a week or more ago.

Maude Sprague is the next oldest of a family of ten children, her brother, Charles Sprague, being two years her senior. The other eight children are younger than Maude. The mother, being but one year old when the mother's death about a year ago, Maude has been the little mother of the entire household, and according to the information obtained by the probation officers, she has made an excellent mother. The little family of children were clean and well-behaved, and the neighborhood boys speak highly of the little mother's efforts.

The probation officers decided that the conditions in the home were as good, and even better than could be expected, and they assured the father that they would help him in his efforts to keep his family together.

BOSTOCK PREFERS MANAGING A LION

New York, May 24.—Every morning, before visitors begin to arrive at Coney Island, Bostock is busy. Yesterday, after several hours of hard work, he was glad to sit down and chat about his hobbies.

"I would rather stage manage a lion or a tiger than a human star," he said. "On the stage and in preparation for the stage a wild animal has many points of resemblance to a human performer. Perhaps the stage manager of animals has the advantage. He suffers less from annoyances than the manager of men and women."

MR. HENRY C. BOSTOCK.

Body of Mrs. Ellen Flannery, 49, a widow, whose home was on Perry street, near Sagant, Ky., was discovered under a heap of rocks. She had been murdered. Floyd Frazer, 18, was arrested on suspicion.

LITTLE GIRLS ARE LOCATED BY N. Y. POLICE

WHO ARE SUPPOSED TO KNOW SOMETHING OF BRUTAL MURDER THERE.

TO IDENTIFY THE PRISONER

Who Is Now Under Arrest For the Perpetration of Most Fiendish Crime.

New York, May 24.—Two little girls were located by the police today as witnesses of the killing of 15 year old Amelia Staffeldt while picking dandelions near her home, Elmhurst. This may assist in clearing up the mystery. Henry Becker, a youth, was taken into custody last night on suspicions that he may be implicated. Both the girls came home crying bitterly, saying they had seen Amelia attacked. They noticed two men coming down the road, one riding a bicycle. When the bicycle rider noticed Amelia he dismounted and both men started toward her. The rider seized the girl's dandelion knife and stabbed her. Both girls screamed and ran. Becker answers in many ways the description given by Mrs. Simonson of one of the two men who washed his hands at her well shortly after the murder, and that of Joseph Engel of a man he saw running from the field. Becker's story is full of flaws.

The police admit they have only circumstantial evidence against Becker unless the two girls identify him positively.

Another arrest is promised soon in the case.

"Fresh Roasted Coffee?—bah! Mother didn't use fresh roasted coffee, she had Arbuckles."

The way to get a good cup of coffee that tastes like Coffee with all the delicious flavor and aroma intact, is to buy a package of the old original Arbuckles' ARIOSA Coffee, and grind it as you want to use it, first warming it a little to develop the flavor and make the grinding easy. Coffee loses its identity as Coffee after being ground or exposed to the air and is easily contaminated by handling.

Arbuckles' was the first roasted packaged coffee.

The pores of each coffee berry are sealed after roasting with fresh eggs and granulated sugar to hold the goodness in and make the coffee settle clear and quickly; an actual application by machinery, of "Mother's" methods—as patented by this firm.

Sold only in packages, sealed for the consumer's protection, containing one pound full weight. Sales for 37 years exceed the combined sales of all the other packaged coffees. #### THE GYROSCOPE TOP Visions of a new age in railway travel came to an entranced audience at the soiree of the Royal Society, as the result of an exhibition by Louis Brennan, says the London Graphic. If Mr. Brennan's hopes for his invention are realized we are all to travel with the maximum of comfort and safety in cars which may be as large as a ship, running on wheels along a single line with beautiful smoothness and at the rate of 10 to 150 miles an hour.

What is desired in a monorail system is, obviously, stability, or balance. Mr. Brennan secures this by a new application of that puzzling instrument, the gyroscope. The principle upon which the mechanism acts, he explained to his audience, is utilized in nature on the grandest scale in steadying the movements of the heavenly bodies in their orbits. It can be seen and studied also in the child's spinning top, which remains upright from the same cause. This principle is called the gyrostatic action of rotating bodies.

Hitherto all those who have experimented with the gyroscope have stopped short at the stage where passive resistance is produced. Mr.

Brennan has carried discovery further, and, by accelerating the professional movement, obtained active opposition.

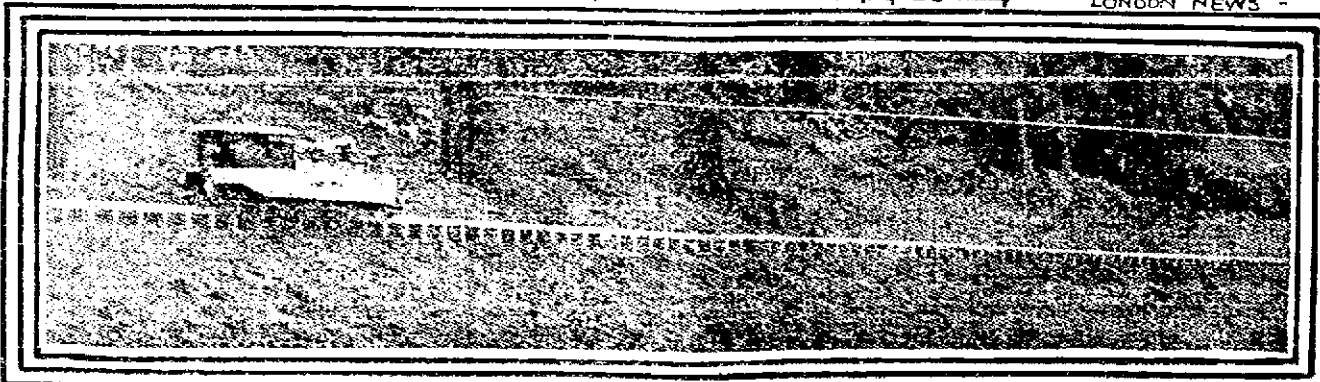

Thus, if the mono-rail vehicle were traveling in a gale of wind, it would not be overturned. No combination of forces, says Mr. Brennan, could upset it.

to one side of the vehicle, it would still not be overturned. No combination of forces, says Mr. Brennan, could upset it.

1750—Stephen Girard, eccentric millionaire and philanthropist, born near Bordeaux, France; died in Philadelphia 1831.
1810—The Savannah, first steamer to cross the Atlantic, left Savannah; reached Liverpool in 25 days. The Savannah menting in vessels and machinery for ocean navigation following Fulton's pioneer trip up the Hudson river in 1807. She proceeded to Russia from England and returned from St. Petersburg to New York in 26 days. Both sails and steam were used.

1870—William Lloyd Garrison, abolitionist and journalist, died in New York;

republican statesman, died at Murcia,

THE RESURRECTION.
When Lord Lindsey was traveling in Egypt, he found a mummy, the inscription on which showed that it was two thousand years old. Unwrapping it, he discovered in one of its hands a tiny root. He brought the root to England, and planted it, when lo! it bloomed, and produced a lovely flower.
The following beautiful stanzas, by Mrs. S. H. Bradford, were suggested by this interesting incident:
Two thousand years ago a flower
Bloomed lightly in a far-off land;
Two thousand years ago, its seed
Was placed within a dead man's hand.
Before the Saviour came to earth,
That man had lived and loved and died,
And even in that far-off time,
The flower had spread its perfume wide.
Suns rose and set, years came and went,
The dead had kept its treasure well;
Nations were born and turned to dust,
While life was hidden in that shell.
The shriveled hand is robbed at last,
The seed is buried in the earth;
When lo! the life long hidden there—
Into a glorious flower burst forth.
Just such a plant as that which grew
From such a seed buried low;
Just such a flower in Egypt bloomed
And died two thousand years ago.
And will not He who watched the seed,
And kept the life within the shell,
When those He loved are laid to rest,
Watch o'er their buried dust as well?
And will He not from 'neath the sod
Cause something glorious to arise?
Aye, though it sleeps two thousand years,
Yet at that buried dust shall rise.
Just such a face as greets you now,
Just such a form as here we wear,
Only more glorious far, will rise
To meet the Saviour in the air.
Then will I lay me down in peace,
When called to leave this vale of tears,
For in my flesh shall I see God,
Even though I sleep two thousand years.

The fact that a contestant is not at the head in her district by no means indicates that she will not be there at the right time. The other day one contestant voted 7000 ballots and other surprises of this kind may be in store for somebody. One day this week in a contest conducted in another city, one girl cast over 60,000 votes, and everybody sat up and took notice. Before that nobody thought she was in the race.
Pick out one of the contestants and work and vote for her early and often. The Advocate readers will determine what 10 of the contestants will enjoy the big trip to Jamestown in July. Remember you get 1000 votes on a year's subscription to The Daily Advocate (old or new) if paid in advance, and by paying in advance you save money. Saving money is the same as earning it. Then too, you will help in selecting a young lady who will be given the trip of her life at this paper's expense.
There may yet be another entry or two in the contest. It is not too late.
Let a half dozen or so of one's friends get together and give a subscription to a young lady, and she could start with a vote that would put her strictly in the contest. One did it last week and the same thing can be done again. Think it over.

STEEL GIRDERS FOR THE BRIDGE AT B. & O. DEPOT

DIFFICULT AND DANGEROUS ENGINEERING FEAT TO BE PERFORMED IN JUNE.

General and Local Railroad News That Will Interest Advocate Readers.

In about three weeks from date the engineers of the B. & O. will put in position six large steel girders for the bridge over the North Fork of the Licking, at the B. & O. passenger station. These girders will be slipped in all at one time, a very difficult and dangerous engineering feat and the work is exciting great interest among those who understand the magnitude of the work.

B. & O. Man Promoted.
W. F. Ross, a Mansfield boy, well known in railway circles, has just received another promotion. Mr. Ross will become B. & O. assistant trainmaster to take the place of G. R. Kimball, who becomes division operator. Combined with the office of assistant trainmaster Mr. Ross will assume the duties of assistant road foreman of engines, which will give him wider range for the execution of his duties of his new office. He has held the office of road foreman of engines for several months past.

Watch Inspection.
R. E. Dutton, chief time inspector of the B. & O. lines, has been here the last few days, looking into the matter of watch and clock inspection. It has been customary to have the time pieces of all train men examined twice a year, but the company finds that this is not thorough enough, and now it is to be done more completely and a strict compliance with the rules for employees' time pieces will be enforced.

This feature of railroad rules has been gone into very deeply, the last few years, and now it is understood that all employees whose duty requires them to use time pieces, that they be provided with a reliable time piece and have the same examined at intervals during the year, the record of the same to be kept by the local inspector and these records to be forwarded to the chief inspector. This last is a part of the rules that have not been adhered to very closely, and in view of so many accidents recently, all over the country, the railroads will hereafter insist that they be complied with, to insure safety to the traveler and the traveling public.

Cedar Point Opening.
The summer resort at Cedar Point opens June 9, for the season. The B. & O. will put on two new trains from Mansfield to Sandusky to handle this trade and they go on at the above mentioned date.

Railroad Officials Here.
Mr. Ira Schwab of the L. & N. Mrs. C. D. Harper of the Wisconsin Central, and B. C. Fuller of the Missouri Pacific, were here Thursday, looking after the interests of their respective railroads. They left here for Sandusky Friday morning.

A New Generator.
Mr. P. M. Fey, the B. & O. electrician, is today engaged in placing the wires for the new generator that will be installed soon, and which will add the much needed light around the B. & O. passenger station and the yards.

Railroad Invention.
Clarence J. Harter of Herkimer, N. Y., was a Newark visitor yesterday. While here Mr. Harter did considerable business which promises a revolution in railroad matters. The nature of his visit here is kept a profound secret both by himself and the railroad officials whom he visited. Mr. Harter is well known in railroad circles and is the inventor of various devices which have greatly helped to modernize the present conditions of railroad affairs. His most recent patent is one which though not in use here at present, is used greatly on eastern suburban roads and gives promise of being universally adopted, especially on accommodation trains.

The device consists of a casing in which is arranged a pair of rollers. A sheet containing the names of all stations in their proper order is wound upon these rollers and so arranged as to pass in front of an opening in the casing when the rollers are turned. The movement of these rollers is controlled by electricity, which operates the levers attached. By this device yelling brakemen are done away with, and all the passenger needs, to do in order to ascertain his whereabouts, or the name of the station ahead is to glance at the casing and see the information he seeks recorded there.

This device is one which is favorably taken to by the traveling public which has already witnessed it in operation.

Supreme Secretary Here.
Charles C. Daniel, supreme secretary of the Interstate Commerce Railway Travelers' Association, was in Newark yesterday. Mr. Daniel is en route to Columbus and then for that place this morning. Previous to his departure he gave out information which gives one an idea of the organization which he so ably represents.

In an interview with an Advocate representative Mr. Daniel stated that "During the quarter just ended there have been 2226 railroad collisions in the United States, Canada and Mexico, and 1739 derailments. Altogether 20,944 passengers and employees were killed or injured during the same period. The members of our association have participated in more than their share of these misfortunes, as the following figures will attest: From November 1, 1906, to May 1, 1907, we have paid 1193 accident and death claims, amounting to $171,073 14. During the same period of 1905-06, 950 claims were paid, which amounted to $110,631 49 an increase of 25 1-2 per cent in the number of claims paid, and an increase of 55 per cent in the amount of indemnity disbursed.

"For every dollar collected for the Indemnity Fund since November 1, 1906, one dollar and three cents ($1.03) has been paid out. If the same ratio of claims should extend through the year, it would mean that an average of one out of every sixteen of our members would meet with accidental injury or accidental death."

The Interstate Commerce Travelers' Association has a large membership and is mainly an insurance organization founded somewhat on the principle of the Woodmen of the World. Its headquarters is in Columbus.

Railroad Notes.
W. C. Loree, general superintendent of the B. & O. lines, passed through the city Thursday to San dusky.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

MRS. HAL. H. COFFEL.
The sad news was received today of the death of Mrs. Stella Coffel of Pennsville, Indiana, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Howard of 19 Clinton street.

This comes as a sad surprise for her parents returned Monday from a visit with her, and while she was suffering from a case of pneumonia, nothing so serious was apprehended.

At 7 a. m. Friday the parents received a message saying that she was very sick and for the mother to come on. This was dated 8:14 p. m. Thursday, and for some error in transmission was not delivered until 7 a. m. Friday, and was accompanied by the second message announcing her death.

Mrs. Coffel was one of the High school class of 1902, and attended the seminary at Granville, finishing her education there.

She was married early last fall and was extremely popular and of a lovable disposition, and her many acquaintances here and elsewhere will greatly deplore her death.

Nothing at this writing has been arranged about the funeral, the time of which will be announced in these columns later.

THOMAS EVANS.

Thomas Evans, aged 73 years, died at his home, 34 Western avenue, Friday morning at 8 o'clock after a three weeks' illness of grip. His death was due to heart failure super induced by his three weeks' illness. Mr. Evans had lived in Newark since last October, coming to this city from Sharon Valley. He has been a resident of Licking county over 50 years, locating here in 1848. He was a native of Wales.

He is survived by his wife and eight children, three of whom live in Newark. He also leaves three sisters: Mrs. Mary Jones of Ponder avenue, Mrs. Sara Evans of North Fourth street, and Miss Ann Evans of Colorado Springs.

The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon but the hour has not been decided upon yet.

M. BUCKSAR'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of Michael Bucksar who died Thursday at his late home on Wilson street, at the age of 39 will take place Saturday at 9 o'clock, Rev. E. M. O'Boylan officiating.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to extend our thanks to our neighbors and friends for their kindness through the sickness and death of our son Reese and also for the beautiful flowers Mr. and Mrs. Ellis and children.

DO YOU APPRECIATE CLOTHING THAT IS DIFFERENT?

Some people have the idea that the only way to secure clothing that is different from the ordinary ready-made kind is to go to an expensive custom tailor.

Nay, nay—there is a better way—a less expensive way.

Custom tailoring may be satisfactory—sometimes—but, look at what this possible satisfaction costs—at Meridith's a line of clothing will be found, fully as satisfactory as custom tailoring, fully as distinguished, fully as "dressy," fully as well tailored—BUT AT A MUCH LESS PRICE.

It is clothing that is different—clothing that does everything custom tailoring sets out to do without the expense to you.

Have you investigated this different clothing?

It will be worth while.

Backache Dizziness Cold Feet Rheumatism

These symptoms all indicate diseased kidneys

These and many other symptoms, such as pain in the side, painful passing of urine, highly colored urine, brick dust in urine, etc., all indicate an unhealthy condition of the kidney.

Healthy kidneys remove from the blood about five hundred grains of impure matter daily.

Should anything interfere with this most important function, the other organs of the body will soon suffer from the poisonous matter remaining in the blood, and Bright's Disease, which is almost always incurable, is apt to set in at any time.

Before it is too late, cleanse your kidneys with Lantz's Red Kidney Pills.

Our guarantee is in every box. No cure, no pay. Don't trifle with your health another day. Ask a man who has tried them. He is the best judge. Nothing equals Lantz's Red Kidney Pills for kidney and bladder trouble.

BIG AUDIENCE WAS DELIGHTED BY THE COLUMBUS ORCHESTRA

The Organization Gave a Splendid Rendition of Difficult Works of Master Composers---Mrs. Wilson Sang---Granville Festival.

Few people know the difficulties of running a Festival. There are many things to contend with, such as the arranging of programs, the proper advertising, the financial management and lastly the engaging of artists and organizations that are responsible. It is surprising that with the numerous contracts signed for each Festival, but few are ever viol-lated. This, however, was the case with the Chicago Symphony orchestra which was to have played here last night. Everything in regard to the engagement of this orchestra was settled many weeks ago, but in the last few days rumors began to reach the Festival Association in regard to Mr. Beach, the manager of the orchestra. These rumors were not credited at first, but they were so persistent that it was decided to investigate them. By telephone and telegraph it was discovered that the manager was in financial difficulties and had been cancelling dates after the audiences had assembled. It was further discovered that the playing of this orchestra had deteriorated so much this year that they no longer played in a satisfactory manner. With these facts before them the management decided that to protect the interests of the audience it would be best to cancel and engage another orchestra. The date was cancelled and the Festival Association at once got into communication with the orchestras in Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Cincinnati without success. At this time the Columbus orchestra of 50 men was highly recommended, and after negotiations it was engaged at a cost of $61 more than for the other organization. The concert in Granville yesterday afternoon and in Newark last night surely prove to the Festival Association that they were wise in engaging this orchestra.

The program opened with the brilliant overture to the opera of Phefro, by Jules Massenet, then French composer. It is an interesting work and was played in an interesting manner. The applause after this number showed the confidence of the audience in the ability of the Columbus orchestra. Then followed three dainty numbers, two Norwegian dances by Grieg in which some very characteristic music was shown, and an Alburn Leaf of Richard Wagner in which the audience discovered that the great "Richard" could write small intimate things as well as great operas. In response to an insistent encore the orchestra played by request some excerpts from Puccini's Madam Butterfly.

Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson Wilson of Granville was the soloist and won more friends by her singing. She appeared in a new gown made especially for this occasion and won her audience as much by her appearance as by her singing. She sang her numbers as given on their program excepting that she substituted an aria from Samson and Delilah, by Saint Saens. Enough cannot be said of the singing of Mrs. Wilson, who during the Festival won her way into the hearts of the Newark people as no other singer has ever done. It is to be hoped that she will be heard here in recital soon.

The chief piece on the orchestral program was the Schubert unfinished Symphony. This was his last Symphony, which he did not live to finish, and is full of that charm of melody and expressive romanticism which Schubert alone could give. It was played on a most perfect way. It is a difficult work to perform but all these were surmounted with seeming ease. The Guonod ballet music from Faust was rendered in a charming manner and won much applause. The last number, the well known march from Tannhauser was given with virility and yet the brass was so well played that there was no brass band effect as is usually the case.

The orchestra has every reason to feel proud of stepping into such a difficult place and acquitting themselves so well. Indeed, people who have heard both orchestras say that the Columbus orchestra plays even better than the Chicago orchestra. At any rate the concert was a tremendous success and congratulations are due all around. Columbus is to be credited for having such an orchestra.

GRANVILLE FESTIVAL.

Granville, May 24---Thursday, the closing day of the Granville Festival, was observed as a holiday in all the schools, and the business houses closed for two hours during the symphony concert in the afternoon.

The children's concert at 10 a. m. was a grand success. Miss La Ferre who had the program in charge, deserves great praise for the graceful way in which she directed the chorus and the perfect order she maintained among 350 pupils large and small, who occupied every available inch of space on the large specially constructed stage. It was a sight to gladden the eyes, and the program was sufficiently varied to afford great enjoyment to the audience. The two piano numbers of Mr. Carl Eshman, were played in a masterly style, and were enthusiastically appreciated.

The symphony concert in the afternoon drew a crowded house, and proved to be the great success of the concert, after the first feeling of disappointment which followed the announcement that the Chicago Symphony was not keeping its dates. Substitutions are always unfortunate, but in this case Mr. Judson's resourcefulness and rapid measures saved the day and the audience which had assembled to listen to the Chicago Symphony remained to enjoy with untiring enthusiasm—the same program played in a splendid manner by the Columbus Symphony consisting of about 50 members. That the music was enjoyed on its own merits was attested by the spontaneous applause which each number elicited.

A Granville audience is like (to use a homely simile) the proverbial horse "who may be led to water but cannot be forced to drink." It always is polite, never demonstrative unless particularly well pleased.

That an audience was demonstrative the director can testify; that it was "polite" was evident to all.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson's solo, "Samson and Delilah" in which she was accompanied by Miss Kibler, was but an additional evidence of her unlimited power to please. An error was demanded and Mrs. Wilson sang a "Spring Song" in response.

Even a thunder storm which announced itself soon after the concert began, failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the audience and all pro-

PARDON BOARD REJECTED IT

Application of Cornelius For Commutation of Sentence.

TO BE ELECTROCUTED JUNE 7

Governor Harris Grants Reprieve to White, the Warren County Murderer. No Poison in Stomach of Man Found Dead in Well—General News Notes of Ohio State.

Columbus, O., May 24.—Governor Harris granted a reprieve to Henry White, the Warren county murderer, who was to have been electrocuted Wednesday night, to June 28, to enable his attorneys to carry the case to the supreme court. The death penalty imposed by the common pleas court was affirmed by the circuit court, and the case will be taken into the supreme court on alleged grounds of error. White killed Marshal Bashore of Franklin when the latter was attempting to arrest him, but his counsel claim there were some extenuating circumstances.

The board of pardons, in session here, has rejected the application of James N. Cornelius, the Canton wife murderer, under sentence to be electrocuted June 7, for a commutation of sentence to life imprisonment. The board recommended a commutation from 7 to 3 years for E. F. Kaneen, the Lorain bank clerk, who was convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary for embezzlement in 1905. Kaneen's wife is said to be dying of tuberculosis. Thomas A. Pressley, sentenced from Summit county in 1905 for 5 years for burglary, will have his term commuted to 2½ years. Pressley was a resident of Cleveland, but stole $2.50 worth of automobile pipe while in Akron, and was arrested and convicted in that city.

Presbyterians On Divorce.
Columbus, O., May 24.—The Presbyterian general assembly received and adopted the report of the special committee on marriage and divorce and adopted resolutions rejoicing in favorable results already obtained and expressing the hope of more radical reform, reaffirming deliverances of former assemblies regarding marriage and divorce and exhorting presbyteries "to enforce the standards of the church, to hold to a strict account all ministers under their care, and to urge all ministers to regard the comity that should refrain from giving the sanction of our church to members of another church, whose marriage is in violation of the laws of the church whose communion they have chosen."

Traveling Musicians.
Cleveland, O., May 24.—An effort will be made to regulate traveling musical organizations as the result of action taken by the American Federation of Musicians. A resolution will be adopted which is intended to prevent orchestras and bands from cutting the rates of social organizations. Delegates from the large cities strongly opposed the measure. Officers were elected as follows: President, Joseph Weber, Cincinnati; secretary, Owen Miller, St. Louis; treasurer, Otto Ostendorf, St. Louis.

"Wets" Lose at Athens.
Athens, O., May 24.—In the hottest campaign ever held in this city the "drys" won out in the special local option election here Thursday by just 13 votes. When the announcement was made there was general excitement and that the election will be contested there is little doubt. It is claimed that many students attending the university here, who were not legally voters in the city, voted with the winning crowd and their votes will all be contested. The result of the election promises to cause a bitter legal fight.

Critchfield Dismisses Companies.
Columbus, O., May 24.—Adjutant General Critchfield issued orders for the mustering out of the companies of the Seventh regiment, Ohio National Guard, at Gallipolis and Summerfield on the ground of inefficiency. The troubles in the regiment are incident to the attempt to elect a colonel to succeed Carmi A. Thompson, who resigned upon being elected secretary of state. May 28 is the date set for mustering out the companies.

Was Not Murdered.
McConnellsville, O., May 24.—Coroner Holcomb received a report from Dr. Curtis C. Howard of Columbus to the effect that no poison was found in the stomach of Edward Wetherell, which he analyzed last week. Wetherell, who was well advanced in years, was found dead in a well a few weeks ago. The coroner will report that death was due to drowning and that Wetherell probably committed suicide.

Now Wears a Title.
Lima, O., May 24.—The king of Portugal has just made a former Lima girl a baroness by conferring the title of baron upon Andrew D. Patterson, Standard Oil manager of refineries in Europe. Mr. Patterson is also an Ohioan, and he married Dora Metzgar here 12 years ago when he was the head of the Standard Oil refining interests. He has been in Europe for a decade.

Price of Whisky Advanced.
Cincinnati, O., May 24.—The first advance that had been made for over a year in the bulk price of whisky was announced here. The raise is 2 cents a gallon from $1.29 to $1.31 per gallon. The prevailing high price of corn is given as the cause for the advance. Both independent and combine distillers will demand the advance in accordance with an agreement made when the whisky war was compromised two years ago. The advance will mean an increase of at least 2 cents a gallon in denatured alcohol for commercial use. It will also mean an increase to the blending and compounding houses which market whiskies using spirits or ethyl alcohol as the basis.

Woman Was Drowned.
Cincinnati, O., May 24.—The body of Mrs. Louis B. Hall, wife of the manager of the National Press association of New York, was recovered from the Eden park reservoir. Lamb inherited a small fortune some time ago and spent most of it in riotous living.

Cut Throat With Razor.

FIVE ARE DEAD AS THE RESULT OF AN EXPLOSION

Chicago, May 24.—Five workmen were killed and a dozen others seriously injured when an ammonia pipe exploded in the beef killing department of Armour & Company's plant at the stockyards. The building was full of workmen at the time and the deadly ammonia fumes, escaping from under high pressure, penetrated through every department of the building in a such short time that 20 of the men were overcome before they could make their escape to the fresh air. All but five of these men were dragged from the place by their companions in such a serious condition that it was necessary to take them to a nearby hospital. The bodies of the victims were recovered later, all of them having been burned in a horrible manner.

The youths' companion has just completed $0 years of publication.

A cottonwood tree recently cut in Mississippi contained 4,800 feet of lumber.

PEOPLE IN THE PUBLIC EYE

Mr. Sargent lives in Chelsea, England, and is the most sought-after portrait painter now in England. His most artistic portraits are said to be those of Carolus Duran, Ellen Terry and the Hon. Joseph Chamberlain of Birmingham, England.

LIFE OF DUMA THREATENED

Premier Stolypin Makes Sensational Address to the Members.

NO EXPROPRIATION OF LAND

Claims the Government is Being Ignored by Parliament in the Efforts to Solve the Agrarian Problems. Finnish Diet Effects an Organization and Notifies the Czar.

St. Petersburg, May 24.—A sensation was caused in the lower house of parliament when Premier Stolypin unexpectedly announced that a serious conflict existed between the house and the government, through the agrarian committee of the house proceeding to solve the whole agrarian problem without consulting with any representative of the government. The premier ended his statement by announcing that the forcible expropriation of land could not be permitted and warned the house that speeches exciting the peasants were beginning to cause a dangerous agitation in the provinces which the government was determined to restrain. He added that the agrarian program left the various parties in the house in irreconcilable positions towards each other and towards the government. If the principle of the forcible expropriation of land was permitted to prevail a social upheaval of which history would not be able to show a parallel would be precipitated. M. Stolypin asserted that to plunder the 130,000 land owners would be like nursing an invalid back to health by nourishment drawn from his own body. The whole state must assist in solving the agrarian problem. Premier Stolypin then announced the government's willingness to assist the peasants to purchase land and help them on a broad scale in the payment of the mortgage interest, but he declared that the forcible expropriation of land could not be permitted. The pronouncement of the premier has caused a renewal of the apprehensions regarding the life of the duma, but the Constitutional Democratic leaders are confident that the premier's hurried statement is in no way connected with the progress of the reactionary intrigue against both the duma and the premier which recently came to light at the palace.

Finnish Diet Organized.
Helsingfors, May 24.—The first single chamber diet of Finland, organized under the new constitution, elected presiding officers and then adjourned to await the emperor's confirmation of the elections. The coalition of Socialists and Young Finns, as anticipated, had complete control of the elections, polling 134 out of 200 votes and voluntarily conceding the third office filled to the Old Finns. Not one of the 19 women deputies was a candidate for office, though some of them received scattering votes. Judge Svinhufvud, a member of the Young Finn party, who was degraded from the bench and driven into exile under the regime of the late Governor General Bobrikoff, was elected president. The trick of making paper from wood was learned from the wasp.

Attacked Army Officer.

Mexico City, May 24.—Enraged over his summary dismissal from the Mexican army on charges of conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman, ex-Captain Luis Gomez attacked and badly wounded General Ignacio Salamanca, chief of ordinance in the department of war. The attack was made shortly after noon in Paterson street, which was crowded. Gadamars rushed to the scene and arrested Gomez.

W. MURRAY CRANE.

United States Senator Winthrop Murray Crane of Massachusetts, was born on April 23, 1853, in Dalton, Mass., where he still maintains a residence. Senator Crane was educated in the public schools and then went into business, making a comfortable fortune out of the paper manufacturing business. Senator Crane is a widower. He was lieutenant governor of his state from 1897 until 1899 and governor from 1900 until 1902. He was appointed to fill out the unexpired term which existed at the death of Senator Hoar and was afterwards re-elected for an additional term.

KING EDWARD SETS NEW FASHION ON HIS TOUR.

KING EDWARD AND KING ALFONSO AT CARTAGENA FROM THE WACHE.

LONDON, May 24.—King Edward's return to London will give a decided fillip to the season; not that the last week has been a dull one, for opera has opened, the Colonial Premiers have been fêted right and left, and several dances have been given, notably one by Lady Desseborough, which was honored by the presence of the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and Princess Patricia of Connaught. King Edward, who derived great benefit from his holiday, while at Palermo wore a white bowler hat. Within a few hours of its appearance the fashion dealers were writing urgent orders to manufacturers to make "Edward the Seventh" white hats in large quantities for immediate delivery.

JEWELERS LOSE HALF A MILLION

By the Flight of a Confidential Employee of Maiden Lane District of New York.

New York, May 24.—Startling disclosures are said to have resulted from the investigation thus far made by the detectives who are acting for the Jewelers' Security Alliance of the United States. It was said on what is purported to be reliable authority the losses attending J. Edward Boeck's flight are at least $500,000. A confidential employee of one of the oldest jewelry firms in the Maiden Lane district said he would not be surprised if Boeck's obligations were found to amount to nearly $1,000,000. Boeck has been indicted. Efforts to capture him have been extended throughout the world.

Attacked Army Officer.
Mexico City, May 24.—Enraged over his summary dismissal from the Mexican army on charges of conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman, ex-Captain Luis Gomez attacked and badly wounded General Ignacio Salamanca, chief of ordinance in the department of war. The attack was made shortly after noon in Paterson street, which was crowded. Gadamars rushed to the scene and arrested Gomez.

MURDER SUSPECT WAS ARRESTED IN NEW YORK

New York, May 24.—Henry Becker, 21, of Manhattan, was arrested on suspicion of having murdered Amelia, the 15-year-old daughter of William Staffeldt, a farmer of Elmhurst. L. I. Becker, according to the police, admitted having been in the neighborhood at the hour the crime was committed and having washed his hands at a pump in the nearby yard of Mrs. Emily Simonson. The arrest was made near the Staffeldt home. The police say that Becker has before been arrested for assault.

Adopt Charlotte Agreement.
Birmingham, Ala., May 24.—By a vote of 96 to 94, the general assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church voted in favor of adopting the Charlotte articles of agreement. This result was reached after one of the most heated discussions in the history of the church and a historical scene was enacted as the assembly placed the church on record as favoring closer unity with other churches holding the Presbyterian form of worship.

A LITTLE GIRL MAKES AN APPEAL TO THE PRESIDENT

For the Pardon of Her Stepfather and Department Takes the Matter Up.

Washington, May 24.—The president has received from a little girl named Mary Wagner, a letter pleading for the pardon of her stepfather, John Allison, who was arrested and convicted in Michigan a number of years ago, of being a kidnaper, and has served six years of a long sentence in the penitentiary when he escaped, since which time he is said to have been living an exemplary life. Some weeks ago he was rearrested and again committed to the Jackson penitentiary. The letter to the president was referred to the department of justice and the department has mailed to the little girl an application blank for pardon.

Writ Refused.
Frankfort, Ky., May 24.—The Kentucky court of appeals refused the writ of mandamus asked by the attorney general to require Special Judge William Carnes of the circuit court, to grant an appeal from his order transferring the Hargis murder cases to Elliott county for trial. The cases are due to be called at Sandy Hook on Monday next.

FIRE MAY DELAY MCKINLEY MAUSOLEUM

Buffalo, N. Y., May 24.—Several pieces of fine marble being carved at the works of George W. Muller & Sons, in this city, for the McKinley mausoleum at Canton, O., were ruined completely by fire, which destroyed the plant. The completion of the mausoleum will not be delayed, according to Mr. Muller. The loss on the plant will reach $50,000.

Egan Accused.
Washington, May 24.—Dr. Maurice F. Egan has received the post of minister to Denmark offered to him by President Roosevelt. The date on which he will enter on his duties will be determined by the state department. Dr. Egan is a member of the faculty of the Catholic university in this city.

PRESIDENT CALHOUN USED HIS FISTS

At a Public Meeting in San Francisco When He Was Virtually Called a Liar.

San Francisco, May 24.—At a meeting of the public utilities committee of the board of supervisors, called to consider a resolution declaring forfeited the franchises of the United railroads, President Patrick Calhoun of that corporation was virtually called a liar by E. P. E. Troy, a municipal ownership advocate. Mr. Calhoun's reply was a blow that caught his antagonist in the face. Supervisor Boxton sprang from the chairman's seat and ordered Troy from the room. Troy's reply was to reply to Boxton's teeth that he had taken bribe money from Calhoun. Boxton ran toward Troy, declaring he would throw him out, but others intervened and held the supervisor, and Troy was forced to take a seat outside of the hall.

Coachman's Confession.
St. Louis, May 24.—Herman Klemm, formerly a coachman for several wealthy St. Louis families, confessed to the police that he burglarized the residence of John Schroers, secretary and general manager of the Westliche Post, April 8, and stole jewels valued at $2,500.

ONLY ONE WITNESS BEFORE COMMITTEE ON SHOOTING AFFRAY

Washington, May 24.—Mayor Frederick J. Candler of Brownsville was the only witness before the senate committee on military affairs in the investigation of the shooting affray there on May 13, last, which resulted in the discharge of negro soldiers garrisoned at Fort Brown. After telling of incidents connected with the shooting affray and subsequent events in which he figured, the mayor was cross-examined by Senator Foraker at great length. The senator was particularly interested in a report that citizens of Brownsville had raised $10,000 to be offered as a reward for information leading to the discovery of the persons who did the shooting. "There was no such thing as that report," said Mayor Candler. "It was started by an Ohio man."

Strike Off.
Buffalo, May 24.—The strike of inside freight handlers at the docks was practically ended when the Western Transit company conveyed the men an advance of three cents an hour to the 20-cent scale for which the men struck.

CONDUCTOR BELL IS FOUND GUILTY

MADE IMPASSIONED ADDRESS BEFORE THE JURY, SAYING HE COULD ACQUIT HIMSELF

If He Had the Wealth of Harry K. Thaw—Convicted of Murdering Physician.

New York, May 24.—"I am no Harry K. Thaw, but plain John Bell. I have no wealth—but if I had, I could produce witnesses whose testimony would acquit me." With these words, a Brooklyn trolley car conductor closed an impassioned address to the jury that three hours later was to find him guilty of murder in the first degree. Bell, a young man of mediocre attainments, was happily married a few years ago. A year after the wedding his wife died in childbirth. Dr. Charles Wilmet Townsend, a prominent physician of Staten Island, had attended her. Bell brooded over his affliction. To his friends he expressed the conviction that his wife had not received the proper medical care. On the night of Jan. 29, last, the testimony showed he entered the physician's home and in the presence of the latter's wife shot Townsend dead.

CRITICAL STAGE

Reached by the Strike Situation in South Africa.

Johannesburg, May 24.—The strike situation reached a critical stage and the men have been isolated. The white workers in 43 mines went out because of the demand made by the proprietors that they work three shifts a day instead of two, and the men from the mines in the east and central Rand areas are joining the movement. When the strikers left the Ferreira deep mine they marched to the Robinson deep, tore down the barricades and assaulted the men who had not gone on a strike. A general riot ensued. About 1,000 imperial troops have arrived here and will be sent along the road.

Roosevelt On the Mississippi.

Washington, May 24.—The president, it is said at the White House, will not make more than three stops on his way down the Mississippi river after he leaves Canton on the 30th of September. The three stops will be at St. Louis, Cairo, Ill., and Memphis, Tenn. He will embark at some point in Iowa. The trip is to be made with the inland waterways commission and the members of the Lakes to the Gulf Deep Waterways association. From Memphis he is to come direct to Washington without stopping anywhere en route.

TRAMP CONVENTION

Gives Indorsement to Senator Foraker For the Presidency and Lauds Roosevelt.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., May 24.—Speeches laudatory of President Roosevelt and Senator La Follette and an indorsement of Senator Foraker as a candidate for the presidency were features of the "national" convention of tramps, held here. At the close of the convention the police ordered the "delegates" from the city. The popular resolution was one which condemned police methods in the large cities. Many of the numerous speakers commended the existing organization of society.

Favoritism by Railroads.
Kansas City, May 24.—Judge W. J. Gaynor of the appellate division of the supreme court of New York addressed the Knife and Fork club here at its monthly dinner. Judge Gaynor spoke on freight rate abuses and said that, while the actual payment of rebates is now seldom done, favoritism is still practiced in many ways. He did not favor government ownership, but said that because of this favoritism it was no wonder a growing number of people wanted the government to take over the railroads.

Prussian Crop Report.
Berlin, May 24.—The official Prussian crop report of May 15 has been issued. It shows a slight improvement in the condition of wheat since April 15, while rye is somewhat worse. The report indicates the heaviest freezing out of winter wheat since 1901; 34 per cent of the acreage having been replowed and either sown twice with grain or other crops. In some of the provinces nearly the entire fall sowing has been frozen out. In the Hildesheim district the proportion being 84 per cent and in the Magdeburg district 94 per cent.

Famine in China Broken.
Washington, May 24.—The Red Cross has formally announced that it will no longer receive contributions of money or provisions for the relief of the Chinese famine sufferers, the famine having been broken by the sowing of new crops. The official notice also says: "The American National Red Cross has received in money contributions for the Chinese famine relief since the work was begun on Dec. 24, last, $220,000, and has received besides a large quantity of seed wheat and flour. Of the money thus contributed the Christian Herald of New York collected $250,000."

BOWSER BUYS TULIP.

Thinks He Is Going to Get Flower to Beat Prize Carnation.

PLANS SPOILED BY CANINE.

Dog Digs Up Plant Costing $25 and Makes Off With It Before the Eyes of the Owner, Who Pursues Animal in Vain.

[Copyright, 1907, by M. M. Cunningham.] Mrs. Bowser went shopping the other afternoon, and as she returned home at half past 4 she found Mr. Bowser with his coat off making a flower bed in the front yard. It had been tilled over and agreed that there should be a flower bed in a certain spot, but it had been also understood that Mrs. Bowser was to make the bed and grow such flowers as she chose. She therefore looked to Mr. Bowser for an explanation, and he said: "I hadn't a thought of doing this when I went away this morning, but something happened right after dinner that may be called the hand of Providence. You have heard of what is called the Lawson pink, haven't you?" "I've read about it."

Thomas W. Lawson of Boston paid $40,000 for a pink and named it after himself, and it is said that he made over a million dollars out of it. Orders came for his pinks from all over the world. If it hadn't been for a brindle cow breaking into his yard one night and eating all the pinks down, he'd have made more money than John D. Rockefeller."

"Well, what has this to do with your getting home at this hour of the day and making a flower bed?" asked Mrs. Bowser.

"As I said, the hand of Providence seems to be in it. A man came into the office this morning and asked for Jones. I told him there was no Jones around there. He seemed very much put out, and I finally learned from him that he wanted to sell Jones a tulip—a tulip that will knock the Lawson pink colder 'n a wedge. The man is a florist and has been experimenting for the last ten years with tulips. He has finally struck it.

MAKING A FLOWER BED IN THE FRONT YARD.

"With a club?" was innocently asked.

"How many colors do you see in the ordinary tulip?" he queried as he dropped his voice to a whisper and looked all around to see if anybody was listening.

"Two or three."

"And what would you say to one showing seventeen—seventeen different colors, Mrs. Bowser, and all of them so bright and vivid as to arouse the beholder to the heights of enthusiasm and admiration? Lawson and his old pink can go hang. They are not fit. They are not within a hundred miles of being in it. In a month or six weeks from now Samuel Bowser and the Bowser tulip will be talked about on the streets of Constantinople on the one hand and Siberia on the other. There will be a crowd of a thousand people in front of our house all day long. There will be forty policemen on duty here. There will be from five to twenty reporters interviewing us day and night. I will be filling orders from the uttermost ends of the earth. Tomorrow I shall order 1,000 photographs and be ready for the papers. By thunder, Mrs. Bowser—by thunder, we have hit it at last!"

He Gets Vexed. "Woman, don't talk to me that way! I am no child. I think I understand human nature as well as you do, and I'll take my dying oath that the man is all right. He offered to go before a notary and make oath that it was a seventeen colored tulip and that it was the only one in the known world. If I hadn't taken it, he'd have gone on to see Lawson and probably got $20,000 for it."

"I ought to have had that $25 to get me a dress with," she finally said as she returned the bulb.

"To get a dress with! Great heavens, you compare a dress to a tulip with seventeen different colors, to a tulip that will make our name famous in a month, to a tulip that may bring us in tens of thousands of dollars within a few weeks! Stop and think of the supreme selfishness of it. By John, I wouldn't have believed that such human nature existed! In your envy and jealousy and selfishness you would have the thing a failure, but it won't be. I have the bed prepared, and I will now set out the tulip. It will grow. It will flourish. It will throw out its seventeen different colors. You can go on."

Mrs. Bowser entered the house, and the bulb was placed in the middle of the bed. It was an hour to dinner, and during the interval Mr. Bowser sat down on the steps to watch and guard.

A dog came along and jumped the fence and would have pulled the bulb from the ground by one of the shoots had not the watcher yelled at him.

A hoodlum came along and looked over the gate and asked Mr. Bowser if he was going into turnip growing. The cold stare he received made his scalp tingle.

A tramp came along and recognized the bulb as a sugar beet and wanted to discuss the rise and fall of the vegetable, but he was ordered to move on in such tones that he was reminded of lunatics and mad dogs.

Watched the Plant. During the dinner hour Mrs. Bowser asked no questions, and the tulip was not referred to. Acting under instructions from Mr. Bowser, the cook took frequent peeps from the basement windows to see that no one entered the yard. As he rose from the table he said to Mrs. Bowser:

"Madam, I shall pass the evening on the front steps. If you are planning to throw hot water on my tulip or otherwise destroy it, you will meet with disappointment."

"But why should I wish to destroy your tulip?" she protested.

"Why have you made twelve different attempts to assassinate me since we were married?"

It was an hour or more before darkness came. Mr. Bowser kept his eye on that tulip and thought of wealth and fame and pictured a rush of reporters to secure his photograph. When darkness settled down, Mrs. Bowser came to the door and asked him if he was going to sit up all night, but in reply he gave her a glare that made her shiver.

He was there when the bells struck 8. So was his tulip.

He was there at 9, and the tulip was nestling down in its earthy bed and preparing to grow.

At 10 o'clock Mrs. Bowser came to the door again and found him nodding. The boy on the opposite side of the street who was just getting ready to hurl a potato stayed his hand, and after standing for a moment she re-entered the house and went to bed.

End of the Experiment. Eleven o'clock came. Mr. Bowser was asleep and dreaming when a shadowy form stole up the street. It stopped at his gate and peered between the pickets. It made sure that the man on the steps snored, and then it leaped the fence and advanced upon the flower bed. The seventeen colored tulip was there and defenseless. That shadowy form was a dog, and he was after bones. With a gurgle in his throat he made a sudden spring, tore at the dirt for a second, and as Mr. Bowser awoke with a yell the canine seized the bulb in his mouth and leaped back into the street. The yell brought Mrs. Bowser to the window. She looked down to see Mr. Bowser roll down the steps and make off after the fleeing dog. There was no one else on the street. There were flickers from the electric lights; there were ghostly shadows dancing here and there. The spirits of departed dogs and tulips frolicked up and down. And as she looked the forms of Mr. Bowser and the pursued vanished in the darkness down the street, and the just and unjust who had been momentarily disturbed turned over in their beds and snored again.

WEALTH PLACED BY GENERAL KUROKI. NEW YORK, May 24.—In conversation with his guests at an elaborate luncheon given by him in the Hotel Astor, General Kuroki expressed amazement at the tremendous energy of Americans and at the wonderful architectural development of New York city. At the close of the luncheon announcement was made of the formation in America of a society to promote harmonious relations between America and Japan.

UNCLE JOE THE STORY TELLER

THIS WEEK HIS SUBJECT IS PLANT LIFE

How Nature Cares for the Weakest Flower and the Mightiest Tree---The Progression of Plants From Tiny Seeds to Full Growth.

UNCLE Joe, The Story Teller, had been out for a short stroll. It was a Sunday morning in early spring, and Uncle Joe had brought back a small bunch of delicate wild flowers, the contemplation of which as he sat upon the porch bench seemed to afford him great pleasure and satisfaction. Here it was the children, freshly dressed and awaiting the expiration of the half-hour when it would be time to start to Sunday school, found him.

"O, look at the spring beauties!" cried Lucy, in delight.

"Come here and let me pin them on you," said Uncle Joe.

"What is that white one?" asked Dick, pointing to a blossom.

"That is the blood root," answered Uncle. "It is usually the first wild flower to appear in this part of the country. But, this year the spring beauties seem to be running it a tight race."

"Why are there no wild flowers in winter?" Lucy wanted to know.

"Flowers and plants, like people, are born, feed, grow, have children, sleep and at last die. For some plants winter means death, and for others only sleep till spring. For most wild flowers winter means death. For their seed it means sleep."

"Tell us some more," pleaded Lucy.

"Well, listen," said the Story Teller. And this is Uncle Joe's Story About Plant Life.

"When a seed falls into the ground so long as the earth is cold and dry, it lies like a person in a trance, as if it were dead; but as soon as the warm, damp spring comes, and the busy little sun-waves pierce down into the earth, they wake up the plant-let and make it bestir itself.

"At first the growing seed has no leaves or roots with which to feed upon the soil or the sunlight. But, very much the same as the little chicken in the egg, it feeds upon that which is with it contained in its shell or covering. And, as the little chicken grows legs, wings and down before it pecks through the shell, the little seed develops roots, shoots and the material for the making of leaves.

"So soon as the tiny roots begin to drink up nourishment from the soil, the nourishment so taken fills up the little cells closest to the roots and expands them so that they keep pushing up and feeding the cells above them, and thus the plant is forced up and into the light of day to grow and live out its life.

"Once peeping above ground the plant can no longer afford to be idle and live upon prepared food. It must work for itself, just as the little chicken must learn early to scratch for itself. So far it has been taking in food of the same kind as you and I; that is, food which has once been alive. Think over what people eat and drink and you will find almost all of it has been alive; meat, vegetables, bread, milk; all these are made from living matter. And, though you do take in such things as water and salt, and even iron and phosphorus, you could not live on such alone. The human body requires to be fed with food which can be worked up into living matter. But the plant, as soon as it has roots and leaves, begins to make living matter out of matter that has never been alive.

"Hour after hour and day after day our plant goes on pumping up water and food from the earth from its roots to its leaves, drinking in carbonic acid from the air, and using the sun-waves to work them all up into food to be sent to all parts of its body. In this way the leaves act as the stomach of the plant, and digest its food.

"Sometimes more water is drawn up into the leaves than can be used, and then the leaf opens thousands of little mouths in the skin of its under surface which let the drops out just as drops of perspiration come through the pores of our skin when we are overheated. When the air is damp and the plant has too much water these lie open and let it out, but when the air is dry, and the plant wants to keep as much water as it can, they are closely shut. There are as many as a hundred thousand of these mouths under one apple-leaf, so you may imagine how small they often are.

"The plants which live only one year take in just enough food to supply their daily wants and to make seed. After the water is no longer carried up such plants wither and die, but the seed makes its bed wherever it may fall into earth, and, if it lights upon good ground and is properly covered up by leaves and foliage, becomes a new plant next year.

"Of course, you know seeds are formed in flowers, and that the seeds are necessary to grow into new plants. Most carefully does the flower protect its seeds, as carefully in its own way as the best of mothers protect their children.

"To their aid flowers call the busy little bees and like insects, holding out to them their tempting drops of honey. And as the bees fly from flower to flower they take with them a ripening sort of seed-food, called pollen, which carried from one to the other helps the seed grow strong and able to grow flowers when they shall have become plants.

"The bee is guided to the flowers by their bright colors and their sweet scents. The brighter colored and showiest flowers as a rule are not the most fragrant, while many of the rarest scented are most modest of appearance. You will be surprised if you once begin to count them up, how many white and dull or dark colored flowers are sweet-scented, while gaudy flowers, such as the tulip, fox glove and hollyhock, have little or no scent. And then, just as in the world we find some people who have everything to attract others to them, beauty and gentleness, and cleverness, kindness and loving sympathy, so we find some flowers, like the beautiful lily, the lovely rose, and the delicate hyacinth, which have color and scent and graceful shapes all combined.

"Have you ever noticed how different flowers open and close at different times? The daisy receives its name DAY'S EYE, because it opens at sunrise and closes at sunset, while the evening primrose and others spread out their blooms just as the daisy is going to bed. And there is a very good reason for all this.

"The daisy opens by day, because it is visited by day insects, but those particular moths which carry the pollen of the honeysuckle and other evening-opening flowers, fly only by night, and if such flowers opened by day other insects might steal their honey, while they would not be of right size or shape to touch the pollen bags and carry the dust.

"Again, some flowers close when ever rain is coming; some to prevent their pollen dust from being washed away, and others to protect their drops of honey. Cup-shaped flowers often droop their heads to protect the honey-glands within them, for if the cup became full of rain or dew the honey would be useless, and the insects would cease to visit them.

"But it is not only necessary that the flowers should keep their honey for insects, they also have to guard it carefully against the wrong kind of insects. Ants love honey as well as bees and butterflies. Against the robber insects flowers protect themselves by hairy, or gummy, stems and also thorns and bristles.

"A thorough botanist has little need of either a watch or a barometer while among plants and flowers. From the flowers which are opening and closing he can very fairly approximate the hour of the day, and in many instances a pretty shrewd calculation may be made in regard to future weather conditions.

"The shapes, colors and scents of flowers are adapted to lure those particular insects best suited to carrying pollen from kind to kind. The lower petal of the violet provides an ideal rest for the bee after its flight, and a comfortable support to the insect while engaged upon securing its drop of honey in trade for the pollen it brings.

"And after frost has come and all the tender flowers are withered and dead, after the leaves of bushes and trees have fallen as a soft cover over earth, the little seeds of summer time lie sound asleep throughout the long night of winter, until the warm breath of spring shall kiss them into life again on just such a bright, glorious morning as this."

"What time is it, Uncle Joe?" asked Lucy.

"Time for you children to run along to Sunday school," replied Uncle Joe, after glancing at his watch.

"I'd almost as soon stay here," said Dick.

GOVERNORS OF OHIO

OTHNIEL LOOKER—1814.

Othniel Looker was acting governor, serving out the eight months' unexpired term of his predecessor, Return Jonathan Meigs, Jr. He was born in the state of New York in 1757. He served throughout the Revolutionary war as a private. In 1784 he received a grant of land in the wilderness of the northwest. He crossed the Alleghenies, located his grant, erected his cabin and cleared his fields. He was a hardworking farmer. On the organization of the state he was elected to the legislature as a representative from Hamilton county. His training there educated and broadened him, and he became such an influential citizen that he was sent to the senate. He became the presiding officer of that body, and when Governor Meigs resigned in 1814 he succeeded him. Of all the governors, perhaps as little was written about any of them as about Othniel Looker. After his term of office as governor expired he served in the state legislature.
